1501633238	Coronavirus Reporter	118642048	CALID Inc.	ios	1.0	284921551				06-MAR-2020 11:07	from Dev	Please contact us immediately to discuss review of this matter. App Review Board: This app does not violate 5.2.1 and is an important utility developed under Dr Robert Roberts' leadership. Dr Roberts developed the screening for heart attacks as we know it, used over thirty years. It is inconceivable that Apple would refuse his work in the face of this pandemic. There is no intellectual property used in this app that is not attributable to CALID, Inc and Dr. Roberts, rule 5.2.1 is simply not applicable. Is Apple saying that only institutions can participate in Coronavirus efforts, and not an independent team of accomplished physicians? This position, if so, is arrogant, reprehensible and reckless in light of the ongoing crisis . Release this app or we will take immediate injunctive action.
1501633238	Coronavirus Reporter	118642048	CALID Inc.	ios	1.0	284921551				06-MAR-2020 14:24	from AppReview	Hello Jeff,  Thank you for contacting the App Review Board. Your appeal has been received and is being evaluated.  If the App Review Board determines that the objection to your feedback is valid, we will search for ways directly with the decision. In some cases where additional issues are found, those will be communicated to you as well.    Should we find that the appealed rejection issue is resolved, and no additional issues are found in review, your app will be approved.  Please be aware that all apps, including updates, undergo a complete review to ensure compliance with the most current version of the App Store Review Guidelines.  Best regards, Taylor  App Review Board

Regarding 5.2.1, note that the seller and company names associated with your app do not reflect a recognized institution, such as a governmental entity, hospital, insurance company, non-governmental organization, or university, which is required for the content in this app by Guideline 5.2.1 of the App Store Review Guidelines  ->Next Steps  The content in your app must be published under a seller name and company name that reflects a recognized institution. 1501633238	Coronavirus Reporter	118642048	CALID Inc.	ios	1.0	284921551				07-MAR-2020 14:53	from Dev	Dear Apple: 1) Please clarify whether the App Review Board has made the above decision, or if the appeal is still pending. 2) Apple appears to be confused regarding the IP owner of this app. CALID is a Wyoming C Corporation with four years experience in bioinformatics and currently owns all IP related to this &quot;social media&quot;; app. Dr Robert Roberts is Chief Medical Officer of CALID, Inc. Dr Robert Roberts oversees this app, &quot;Coronavirus Reporter&quot;; Dr. Roberts a) invented the gold standard screening for heart attacks used for thirty years, b) is head of University of Arizona's Translational Research Center, c) gave astronaut John Glenn medical clearance for the first earth orbit. It is clear that sufficient medical credentials and supervision apply to this app.. see https://phoenixmed.arizona.edu/newsroom/news/faculty-spotlight-robert-roberts-md CALID's team also includes Dr. Brandon Roberts MD MPH, who has a decade experience as an ER physician and is staff at Medical College of Georgia, and Dr Jeffrey Isaacs, MD, MBA, who is also a computer scientist from Dartmouth and has developed apps that have served over 100 million users. 3) Dr Robert Roberts is willing to discuss this matter by telephone to address Apple's concerns, or provide a written statement as necessary. While it may be possible to seek an institutional sponsor in addition to Calid, Inc, this will take time and we respectfully request Apple grant provisional approval of the app given the urgent situation. 4) A growing number of people are affected by this pandemic, as Apple knows, many are working from home. This is simply a check-in tracker and does not provide medical advice or treatment. It should not be restricted as such. In short time, the news media will not be able to cover all effects of this virus in the United States, and elsewhere; this app will ameliorate information sharing. Is Apple really taking the position that such a medical team, lead by renowned Dr Robert Roberts, is less preferable to an &quot;insurance institution&quot;; that 5.21 specifically permits to submit such an app? Please review this appeal and get back to us.Calid's Legal Officer, Keith Mathews, is willing to be in touch with Apple counsel regarding this matter.
